

FALLING THROUGH THE CRACKS

Direct Seller Jenny Dobmeier was on a roll, getting hundreds of new leads every month through her Instagram Stories and one-on-one interactions without spending a dime on ads and promotions.

Although she was delighted with this flood of new leads, she now had a new problem – how to make sure she didn't miss any of these new Instagram leads and sales opportunities!

WASTING HER VALUABLE TIME

Jenny tried online lead tracking tools and even Excel. Frustrated by how much time they took to use, she went back to tracking her leads on paper. But even pen-and-paper were not enough.

Jenny found herself wasting follow-up time going through pages of notes to identify her most important leads. She spent less than 50% of her time actually contacting leads and closing sales.

LEADKLOZER TO THE RESCUE!

With LeadKlozer, Jenny is able to save and search for important information around her lead conversations, set reminders, categorize leads, and more – doubling her productivity.

Now Jenny sees all her most important leads at a glance, prioritized based on their interactions. By helping Jenny rank and track leads, LeadKlozer saves time and radically improved her follow-up results.

STOP SPINNING YOUR WHEELS

“My priorities are so much clearer now that I can spend 90% of my time in the actual follow-up process which moves my business ahead.” – Jenny Dobmeier

Jenny's time used to be spent searching for notes, re-checking social profiles and recreating follow-up priorities over and over again. With LeadKlozer, Jenny can now spend 90% of her follow-up time actually connecting with her best leads and growing her business!
